Installation and porting

Customers connecting their services to the Wyre network can install them themselves (free of charge) or have them installed by a technician (for a fee). When customers connect to the VOO network, the installation will always be carried out by a technician for free. Please note: if the customer's home is not connected to the cable network yet, the technician will have to finish the connection first. In that case we can charge additional costs. More info at www.prd.base.be/baseconnection.
